SYNOPSIS

Professor Helen Herrman is Professor of Psychiatry and Research Director at Orygen Youth Health Research Centre at the University of Melbourne and Director of the World Health Organization (WHO) Collaborating Centre for Mental Health in Melbourne. From 1992 to 2005, she was Professor and Director of Psychiatry in St. Vincent's Health Melbourne, during development of an integrated hospital and community area mental health service in inner Melbourne under Australia's national reform of mental health care. For a year in 2001-2002 she was acting regional adviser in mental health for the WHO's Western Pacific Region.

She was elected as Secretary for Publications for the World Psychiatric Association (WPA) in 2005 (until 2011) and Regional Vice-President Oceania for the World Federation for Mental Health in 2007 and 2009 (until 2011). She was Vice-President of the International Federation of Psychiatric Epidemiology from 2005-2009. She was appointed in 2009 and 2011 as a member of the World Economic Forum's Global Agenda Council on Chronic Diseases & Conditions. She was elected to the position of President-elect of the Pacific Rim College of Psychiatrists (PRCP) for 2012-2014 and President-elect of the International Association of Women's Mental Health for 2013-2015.

Helen holds an Australian National Health and Medical Research Council (NHMRC) practitioner fellowship, 2010-2014. Her main fields of scholarship include: psychiatric epidemiology including mental disorders in homeless people and prisoners; clinical service development including community mental health and mental health in primary care; and mental health promotion. She is currently involved in research programs on improving mental health for young people in out of home care, on violence, gender and mental health, on youth, technology and wellbeing, and on depression in primary health care.

Scholarship in psychiatry.

- Publications include
 - a) 170 peer reviewed scientific papers, editorials and book reviews
 - b) 8 edited books
 - c) 28 book chapters and
 - d) 23 monographs and reports
- Scientific presentations include frequent invited keynote, plenary and panel presentations at international meetings, and convenor of symposia, workshops and panel presentations
- Several Editorial positions (see Positions Held, p 4):
- Research grants: Since 2009 a principal investigator on competitive research awards from Australian and Canadian governments and other sources totaling more than 10M AUD/USD. From 2011, a principal investigator on 5-year award of a Cooperative Research Centre from the Australian Government for youth, technology and wellbeing, with support of 27M AUD
- Review commitments include seven years as a committee member of the Australian Rotary Health Research Fund, work as scientific reviewer and panel member for the NHMRC, scientific reviewer for several research funding bodies, and appointment as a member of the NHMRC Assigners Academy in 2013.

Honorary, advisory and consulting positions: in Victoria, in Australia and internationally.

For eight years Helen served as a member of the Board of Trustees for the Victorian Health Promotion Foundation (VicHealth), during which period VicHealth developed mental health promotion as one of its key strategic directions. She was a founding Board member of Jesuit Social Services, an organisation developed by the Australian Jesuit Province, to work with marginalised youth and communities in Victoria, and promote social justice.

Work with the RANZCP has included founding Chair of the Professional Relations Committee (Australia) within the Board of Professional and Community Relations, and and Co-Chair of the Organising Committee for the WPA International Congress of Psychiatry, held in Melbourne in November 2007. The Congress attracted 3000 delegates, with an emphasis on regional collaborations, and on partnerships between mental health professionals, and families and consumers of those living with mental illness. Indigenous mental health and population approaches to improving mental health were highlighted, with involvement of people from many community sectors.

Committee positions with state and federal governments in Australia include the leadership of clinical service review teams for the Office of the Chief Psychiatrist in Victoria in the 1990s, contribution to and leadership roles in the National Mental Health Strategy, and leadership of the expert group for the Commonwealth of Australia in the Australia-Japan Partnership in Mental Health Research. She has served as a member of the Australian Government Specialist Medical Review Council since 2010, and was appointed to the NHMRC Principal Committee: Prevention and Community Health 2013-2016.

In 2004 Helen was designated as Director of the World Health Organization (WHO) Collaborating Centre for research and training in mental health at SVMHS and the University of Melbourne. From 1995 to 2004 she was site director for SVHMS within a multi-site Australian WHO Collaborating Centre. The designations were based on a history of work with WHO as consultant and adviser since 1989. A period of one year in 2001-2002 acting as regional advisor in mental health with the WHO Western Pacific Regional Office (WHO/WPRO) included the development of a regional strategy for mental health, and work with countries of the region on projects and policy development consistent with the strategy. Working with the countries involved contact with professional colleagues, and with governments and non-government organisations. The work in Melbourne includes the development of training programs for clinical fellows from regional countries. She was an active participant in the formation and work of Asia Australia Mental Health, a consortium of the University of Melbourne and St Vincent's Health. The work included reception of country delegations and hosting of fellows, agreements for training and support of community psychiatry with several countries in the region (China, Malaysia, Korea and Thailand), and close work with colleagues in Japan.

Helen has international recognition in the field of mental health promotion including invited membership in the conference committees for the biennial international Conferences on the Promotion of Mental Health and Prevention of Mental and Behavioural Disorders, a leadership role in the conference in this series in Melbourne 2008, and invitations to participate in consultations and summer schools on mental health promotion in Europe, Canada and USA. In 2007 she was nominated WHO focal point for mental health promotion. She previously lead a three year project for WHO in collaboration with VicHealth and the University of Melbourne, and is first editor of the report published as a book in 2005, on 'Promoting Mental Health: Concepts, Evidence and Practice'.

Helen has worked with the WPA in a number of honorary capacities over several years, including Chair of the Section on Public Policy and Psychiatry (2002-2005). Election in 2005 to the position of Secretary for Publications and member of the Executive Committee brought responsibilities for leadership in a non-government organisation with member societies in 135 countries, representing 180,000 psychiatrists. The WPA is in official relations with WHO, and has worldwide influence on mental health policy and practice. She convened a WPA Task Force, for the WPA-WHO Work Plan 2008-11, on development of guidelines on best practices in working with users and carers. Her work with publications included production of books and journals for WPA as well as convening a task force that successfully supported editors of psychiatric journals in low and middle income countries to achieve indexing in international databases – and so assist research dissemination. Roles with the World Federation for Mental Health(WFMH) included Regional Vice-President Oceania (2007-present) and WFMH representative and chair of the Global Consortium for the Advancement of Promotion and Prevention in Mental Health (GCAPP) 2008- present.
